City looks at more limits for pot growers

Local law already bans pot dispensaries and backyard medical marijuana groves

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

The City of West Sacramento is poised to again tighten the restrictions on anyone growing marijuana at home.

The city has already outlawed marijuana dispensaries, the cultivation of marijuana for dispensaries, and any kind of outdoor marijuana cultivation. Although a state initiative legalized marijuana for medical use in the state, it still remains illegal under federal law.

A staff report for this Thursday's planning commission meeting suggests that the commission put further city restrictions on those growing the plant for their own use, including:

- Continuing to outlaw outdoor growth of the plants
- Limiting indoor growth to 120 square feet per property, with a required minimum amount of ventilation and maximum wattage of growing lights.
- Allowing cultivation only when the grower lives on the property

- No cultivation in nonresidential zones or within 600 feet of schools or child care centers.

The staff report said that, after tracking court cases involving the rights of users of medical marijuana, city planning staff believed such restrictions would pass legal muster.

A number of residents have complained about neighbors growing the drug, said the report. Some have complained about the odor of the plants, and others have worried that the plants are a magnet for thieves and crime.

Citing data collected since 2008, the report said:

"The total number of narcotics complaints shows a peak in 2010, decreasing slightly thereafter, and then a slight rise this year. However, the number of complaints that specifically identify marijuana has doubled every year to 2012, with 2013 slightly below.

The calls for service and crimes (plant theft, residential burglaries) related to the cultivation of marijuana have doubled since 2010."

The city planning commission will be asked to consider the new restrictions during its meeting 6 p.m. Thursday at city hall, 1110 West Capitol Avenue.

Man flees to house, found shot

West Sacramento police report that a local man may have shot himself in the head after a police pursuit Sunday night. Lieutenant Tod Sockman of the West Sacramento Police Department said the incident started when an officer tried to pull over a 1980 Chevrolet pickup truck for a vehicle code violation at about 10:15 p.m. on Sunday.

"The driver fled and a pursuit ensued lasting under three minutes," said Sockman in a press statement. "The pickup stopped in the 800-block of Beardsley (Drive) and the driver, later identified as Justin Farley, 35 year old, from West Sacramento, ran into a residence with a possible gun in his hand. The residence turned out to be Farley's home. A short time later another resident ran out of the house and stated Farley had shot himself. Officers entered the residence to find Farley with what appeared to be a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head."

Farley underwent surgery for "life-threatening" injuries, Sockman said. "A semi-auto handgun was recovered from the scene," he added. "Investigators from the West Sacramento Police Department and the Yolo County District Attorney's Office responded to conduct the investigation."

Man dies after driving into pillar near Tower Bridge

A 63-year old man from Fair Oaks was killed Saturday morning in a single-vehicle accident in West Sacramento. Reported Lieutenant Tod Sockman of the West Sacramento Police Department:

"Approximately 10:50 a.m., officers responded to eastbound Tower Bridge Gateway and the Railroad overcrossing (near 5th Street) for an accident with injuries. Officers arrived to find a single vehicle into the overpass pillar. The driver was the only occupant in the vehicle. West Sacramento Fire Department had to use cutting and prying tools to remove the driver."

The Sacramento County Coroner's office told the News-Ledger on Monday that the victim was Gregory Allen Armitage, of Fair Oaks. He had earlier been identified as being from Mountain View.

Armitage was taken by ambulance after the accident to the UC Davis Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead. The investigation of the accident is in its early stages, said Sockman in a press release.

It's true: a woman can carry anything in her purse

EDITOR'S NOTE: Daryl's column this week contains some fairly graphic bathroom humor. Sensitive readers may want to skip this one. Everyone else: just be glad this didn't happen to you.

As you might recall, I wrote a couple of columns last month about some of the horrors of dating. At the end of one of them I even invited some of you to contact me here at the News-Ledger if you had any funny dating stories that I might be able to use for a follow-up column. I really appreciate that some of you took the time out of your busy days to take me up on my offer, but it turned out most of the responses I received were about dates that had turned out really bad, although not particularly funny. In fact, I had no idea how terrible some of us men can behave on dates. But since I wanted the follow-up column to be humorous and not too sad, I had pretty much given up on the idea of writing it when I suddenly got a phone call last week from an old friend, and our conversation went a little something like this:

"You still looking for a funny dating story?" my friend asked, already starting to giggle.

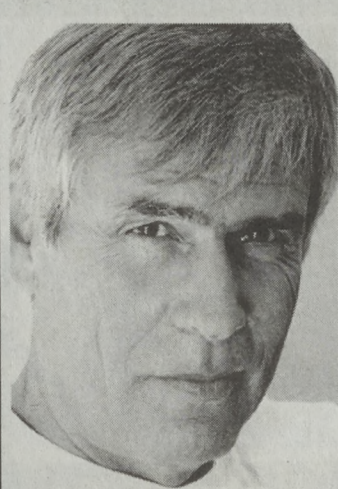

"Sure!"

"Can it be a little gross?"

"Absolutely! But within reason of course."

"Does it have to be my own story, or can

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

it be one a friend once told me?"

"Either one will work as long as it's a funny dating story, and not one about how a date turned out really horrible."

"Oh, this is a funny one alright!"

"Great! Let's hear it!"

"Well, this goes all the way back to when I was living in New York City and working for a bank, and some of the other tellers and I got to be great friends and like girls will do, we often went out to lunch together and would end up talking about our boyfriends. So one day Delia, who was the shyest member of our little lunch group, suddenly announced that she had met a wonderful guy and had almost messed the whole thing up a few nights earlier. So we of course wanted to know all the details and she said she had done something really terrible on their third date. And there we were, not even knowing that she had already been out twice with the guy!"

"So what was the terrible thing she had done?" I asked with interest, trying to cut to the chase.

"Well, the way she told it was that after her first two dates with this guy, she was basically already madly in love with him and could hardly sleep or think straight. So when he asked her out a third time she started to get really scared because he had invited her up to his 6th floor apartment to make dinner for her."

"Why would that scare her?"

"Are you kidding? We're talking about a third date and the guy is going to be cooking for her in his own apartment. That can only mean one thing!"

"What's that?"

"That she probably won't be leaving until the next morning!"

"Oh."

"So, when stuff like that happens, some girls get sick to their stomach, others have anxiety attacks, some even have to call up and cancel the date because they are so nervous, but you know what Delia did?"

"What?"

"She got constipated."

"That can't be good."

"And by the time she got over to the guy's fancy apartment for their big third date, she had been backed up for most of a week. Anyway, to make a long story short, she was so crazy about this guy that there was simply no way she was going to cancel their date, so she gets all dressed up and even throws some nice lingerie into her purse in case she needs it. So they sit down to this great Italian meal he had prepared for her, not to mention that he had soft music playing and candles glowing on top of the fireplace. Plus it turns out the guy can really cook and Delia ends up more or less stuffing herself. Then, with absolutely no warning at all, and right before dessert is about to be served, she suddenly realizes that any minute now, she is no longer going to be constipated."

"You're kidding?"

"No, I'm not! So, with her stomach beginning to cramp up really bad, she politely excuses herself from the dinner table, grabs her purse, and says she wants to fix her face before he serves dessert. Then, barely able to make it into the bathroom, she locks the door securely behind her, sits down on the toilet as quickly as humanly possible, and tries her best not to cry out in agony as she slowly passes almost a week's worth of fiber."

"She must have felt a lot better!"

"That she did, but her problems were only getting started! When she tried to flush the toilet, guess what happened?"

"What?"

"It of course wouldn't flush, and after the third or fourth try, the toilet bowl was almost overflowing. So she desperately looked all around for a plunger, but there wasn't one. And as she was starting to panic, she hears the guy outside the bath-

'So they sit down to this great Italian meal he had prepared for her, not to mention that he had soft music playing and candles glowing on top of the fireplace. Then, with absolutely no warning at all . . .'

room door asking if everything was okay in there. So she says 'yes' and that she'll be out shortly after she gets done combing her hair. Anyway, she just couldn't bring herself to tell the new love of her life that she had plugged up his toilet with the biggest log ever created, so guess what she decided to do?"

"I don't have a clue."

"She decides to get a bunch of toilet paper, fish the really long and wide thing out of the toilet, wrap it up nice and neat in a whole bunch of dry toilet paper, and throw it out the 6th floor bathroom window."

"No way!" I said, starting to laugh along with my friend.

"But it turns out there is no bathroom window, only a fancy air exhaust system, and with the guy asking her again if everything was okay in there, she realizes that she doesn't have time to think of any other ways to resolve her dilemma, so she really panics and sticks the thing in her purse. Then she takes a deep breath, bravely strolls out of the bathroom, and slyly looks all around for a window in the living room that is open. Luckily she finds one, and while the guy is in the kitchen cutting her a big slice of cherry cheese cake, she opens up her purse, grabs the thing, and flings it out onto a busy New York City street, hoping against hope that it doesn't hit anyone in the head. Anyway, when Delia got done telling us that story, most of our lunch group had peed their pants from laughing so hard and if that isn't a funny dating story, I don't know what is! Plus it even has a happy ending!"

"A story like that has a happy ending?" I asked in disbelief.

"It sure did! They ended up getting married! But the last I heard, she still hasn't told her husband that story yet. So, do you think you will be able to use it in your column?"

"I don't know," I said with caution. "We are a family newspaper, you know."

"Something tells me you will find a way!"

West Sac Proud

Dear Neighbor,

November 30, 2013

Though you may have heard already, I wanted to personally let you know that I am resigning my position as your Yolo County Supervisor, District 1, effective December 3rd, 2013. Governor Jerry Brown has asked me to join his administration in a senior management capacity and I have accepted.

Please accept my gratitude for the privilege of serving you as West Sacramento's first mayor, as a member of the city council, and finally for these past 21 years, on the county board of supervisors. I have been the luckiest guy alive to serve my hometown and lead its transformation.

Our push to incorporate West Sac in 1987 came as an expression of the community's deep desire for a different direction. We believed we were capable of becoming something great.

Over 25 years later our vision has transformed West Sacramento into a shining example of how communities turn themselves around through cooperation and planning.

As part of our city's rebirth, we've achieved the following together:

Civic Center—Our new city hall, library and community center are the foundation of our enhanced community identity;

Shopping—25 years ago we shopped elsewhere. Today retail options abound;

River Cats—The finest Triple-A baseball club and its hundreds of jobs calls West Sacramento home;

River Walk—A little used-riverfront is transforming into an economic and recreational gem;

New Housing—We've attracted new homeowners and their families with growth that has enhanced our community spirit;

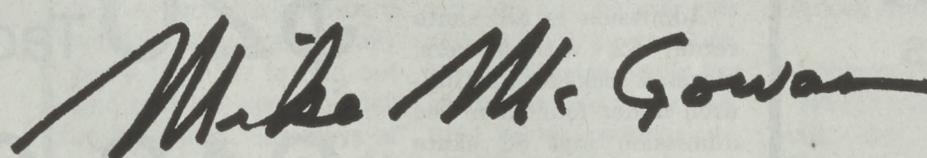

Recreation—Whether it's youth sports like soccer or swimming, we've added new facilities and additional opportunities for families to enjoy.

While more work remains, I am confident that the next generation will do their best to finish the job and make us even more West Sac Proud!

As I ride off into the sunset, I want to thank my wonderful wife, Sue, and our daughter, Becky, for their countless sacrifices as I pursued the vision of a new West Sacramento, a pursuit that was more passion than job. Their strength and love have meant the world to me. They are my heroes.

Thank you again for your support and encouragement over the years, and for the chance to serve you in the best job a guy could ever have.

Warm regards,

Mike McGowan
Yolo County Supervisor, 1st District

GUEST COMMENTARY:

State needs to honor its debt to its counties

By Assemblywoman
Mariko Yamada
(D-Davis)
and Yolo County Supervisor Matt Rexroad (Woodland)

The California Department of Fish and Wildlife owes 36 California counties collectively over $17 million in delinquent payment-in-lieu-of-taxes. For Yolo County, the share is nearly $1.4 million.

The payment-in-lieu-of-taxes (PILT) program was established in 1949 to offset the loss in county property tax revenues resulting from state acquisition of private property for wildlife management areas. These payments were intended to help counties continue to provide vital services such as public safety, health care and roads construction and maintenance. In Yolo County, the state has not made a payment to offset its acquisition of property acquired primarily for the Yolo Bypass Wildlife Area since 2000, thus leaving Yolo County programs and services to suffer.

The state has also not made payments to the No Man's Fire Protection District that sits east of Davis. These payments would help support fire services. Instead, the cost has been borne solely by private landowners in the district. This is not the partnership that the County of Yolo expected. The failure of the state to adhere to state law and meet its end of the bargain discourages the primary intent of land conservation.

Now, the State of California wants to own or control even more property in Yolo County to address the environmental issues associated with the Delta. With over $17 million in delinquent monies currently owed to 36 counties, we are skeptical of the state's future efforts in Yolo County.

Counties throughout California are doing everything they can to reduce expenses, tighten budgets and find funding for critical programs and services for their residents. We believe the State of California should recognize its payment-in-lieu-of-taxes obligation, pay past due monies and resume ongoing annual payments as the first step in building a better state-local government relationship.

We all have to pay our bills – the state shouldn't get an exception on the backs of the counties.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Tracking kindness

Hello, my name is Emma Adelsbach and I am writing on behalf of Westmore Oaks Elementary School. My school is doing "15 Days of Kindness", which is a way to spread as much kindness as possible. Over the 15 days we will do kind deeds such as giving a person you helped a kindness card. A kindness card is a card that you get from someone who does a kind deed for you. If the person who got the kindness card does a kind deed for someone else they would give that person their kindness card. The idea is to encourage others to do kind deeds as well. You can track the path of your kindness card on the internet at www.kindness.org by entering the back of the kindness card. Overall, our goal is to encourage people to do kind deeds for others. We are also trying to collect at least 1,500 pairs of shoes or more to donate to less fortunate people.

The reason we are doing these efforts is to spread kindness amongst one another.

We hope to become the kindest school in the country. Our school will be having assemblies on Friday, December 6.

2013 to kick-off these efforts.

POLICE LOG

Nov. 29, 6:28 p.m.

A Sacramento man's truck caught fire on the levee road near Southport Parkway and Carlin Drive.

Nov. 29, 3:40 p.m.

An officer saw a 44-year old homeless man smoking at a bus stop on the 1800-block of West Capitol Avenue. When the officer contacted the man, the man threw the cigarette into the gutter. The officer took a report that the man was seen smoking at a public facility and littering.

Nov. 29, 10:47 p.m.

The owner of a "big" boat docked on the 1500-block of South River Road reported that video cameras had seen a man on his boat, carrying a backpack. Boats at the marina were the subjects of frequent theft problems.

Police began a search of the boat, finding a black duffle bag on the stairs of the engine compartment containing cut wires – and finding that some of the boat's wiring had been cut.

Police – with a police dog on hand – called for anyone on the boat to surrender himself.

With no response, they searched further and found the 33-year old homeless man on the "tween deck" between the wheelhouse and electrical room. A black backpack was found at the hiding place, with burglary tools and a couple of cans of spray paint in it.

The boat owner reported that a "scuba flashlight" had been stolen; it was also found where the man had been hiding.

The owner said it would cost $1,500-$2,000, or possibly much more, to repair the boat's wiring.

The burglar went to jail.

Nov. 30, 9:15 a.m.

A male suspect stole a laptop computer off the counter of an auto service business on the 2400-block of West Capitol. He fled with it on a bike.

Nov. 30, 2 p.m.

An officer reported an incident on Halyard Drive: "Motel manager calls in; large amount of blood left on the bed in the room after the occupants checked out."

Nov. 30, 2:57 p.m.

Somebody stole about $300 in cash from the register of a donut shop on Jefferson Boulevard.

Nov. 30, 6:30 p.m.

A woman on Hilary Avenue reported her home had been entered by someone. She didn't know yet if anything was missing.

Nov. 30, 10:30 p.m.

A house on Hardy Drive was reported burglarized.

Dec. 1, 9:40 a.m.

A 33-year old Glide Avenue man "located a hole in the outer wall of his trailer, and a hole in the inner wall of his kitchen that contained an intact bullet."

Nothing unusual had been seen or heard prior to that.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The West Sacramento Police Department is undergoing a transition in its data management. Because of this, we currently have access to many of the department's arrest reports, but not to the logs of calls for service and reports of crime. Responding to an inquiry from the News-Ledger, a spokesman said the department hopes for a solution sometime after January 1.

Students try energy assessment tools

Riverbank Elementary School students joined 'Project HEAT' (Hands-on Environmental Team Assessment), spending a half-day on Nov. 13 with engineers from Chevron Energy Solutions. They were trained to use hand-held energy assessment tools, conducting an assessment of energy use in their classroom and learning how to tackle the same issues at home. The project was also meant to strengthen the students' skills in science, technology, engineering and math. (Courtesy of Chevron Energy Solutions)

PICKS OF THE WEEK

"Percy Jackson: Sea of Monsters" (PG-13) -- Percy Jackson is the heroic son of Poseidon, the Greek sea god -- and his human parent must be related to Harry Potter. In this sequel, Percy attends a magic training camp, where he drills alongside other magic teenagers. (If that sounds too much like Potter, then just replace "magic" with "mythical," and you'll get the Percy Jackson flavor.) They need the same Magic Macguffin that the bad guys are after. Eventually, Percy and his pals must brave a large body of water teeming with terrifying creatures. Much like its predecessor, the movie serves as a flashy adventure that will thrill the kids without leaving much to remember. It has plenty of smash-boom action -- Percy carries a sword instead of a magic wand, after all.

"Ain't Them Bodies Saints" (R) -- In a dreamy rural corner of 1970s Texas, two intense and endearing hick kids, Bob and Ruth (Casey Affleck and Rooney Mara), are pinned in a shootout with the law. Ruth shoots a sheriff (Ben Foster, and no word on the deputy), but Bob takes the heat and the 25-year sentence. After some time, Bob busts out of a chain gang, just as the young sheriff starts to take a keen interest in Ruth and the young daughter she's been raising on her own. Dramatic and focused, the film is at its best when the lonesome wide-open country setting underlines the doomed love story. Mara's performance is especially drawing -- she plays her cards close while living in the most complicated position of all.

"Elysium" (R) -- In the future, earth has become a grimy, overpopulated mess. Hovering over the giant slum is Elysium, an ideal space world inhabited by rich people -- a place full of luxury and super-advanced health care.

Max DaCosta (Matt Damon) is a wisemouth ex-con working in future L.A. When he gets a deadly dose of radiation, Max becomes part of a plan to break through Elysium's security and grab some of that healing technology. The big idea: criminal technicians outfit Max with a cutting-edge exoskeleton system.

DOG OF THE WEEK

"The Lone Ranger" (PG-13) -- In this reboot nobody asked for, Tonto (Johnny Depp) is the show-stealing mentor to the Lone Ranger's (Armie Hammer) whiny, bland, reluctant hero. Overly brutal outlaw Butch Cavendish (Michael Fichtner) kicks up trouble, and a pacifist lawyer from the East, John Reid, has to put on a mask and sacrifice his beliefs in the name of justice and revenge. One of the sacred rules of cinema has been broken: When you make boring, loud, genre-remake schlock, make it short. Finishing up at 149 minutes, "The Lone Ranger" has little to say and too much time to say it.

"Ingenious: A True Story of Invention, Automotive Daring, and the Race to Revive America"

by Jason Fagone
(Crown Publishers, $26)
Reviewed by Molly Ford

In 2007, the Automobile X Prize was announced. Run by a private foundation, the goal was to offer a large sum of money -- between $2.5 million and $5 million -- in order to entice teams to build a car that was safe, could be mass-produced, and travel 100 miles on the energy equivalent of 1 gallon of gasoline.

Ordinary people were the ones who answered the call to create what Detroit either couldn't or wouldn't. Author Jason Fagone follows four main teams: a West Coast start-up company that is the early favorite; a pair of high-school sweethearts who are spending their life savings; a larger-than-life German real-estate developer working on a car so light you can push it with your thumb; and a group of West Philadelphia high-school students who are competing for the X Prize

Live!"
"Gator Boys: Season 2"

while balancing teenage life. tyandAwkward.com.

Fagone writes in a character-driven, plain-speak style that eliminates the need to be a car enthusiast or gearhead to enjoy reading the book. And as a writer who is gentle with his subjects, Fagone makes the case that the real fuel powering these cars is hope and hard work.

Peeking under the hood of the automobile industry and into the hearts of the contestants, this book will encourage a different mindset about the future of the automobile industry and the small group of people working to change the way the rest of us get to work, school and home each day.

If you love innovation, competition, or dreams, this is your read.

New Ideas for Leftover Turkey

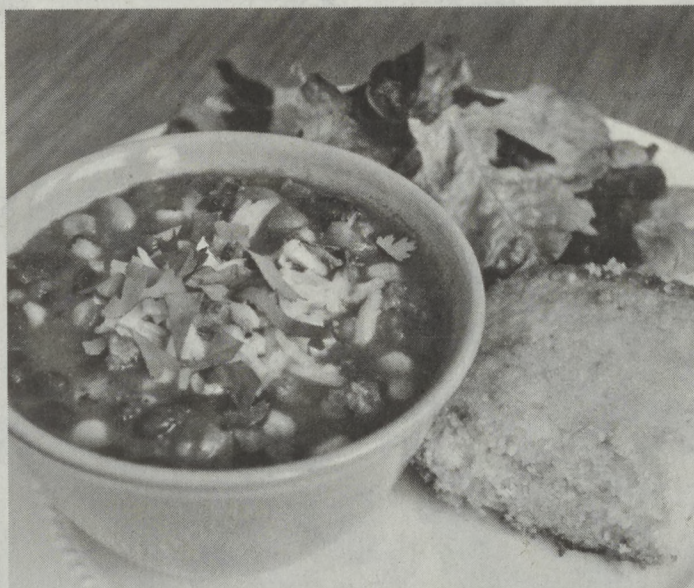

Some folks think that the leftovers are one of the best parts of the Thanksgiving holiday. With a little imagination and safe food handling, you can create a new twist on leftover turkey and side dishes.

When you reheat the turkey, stuffing or gravy, make sure it reaches a temperature of at least 165 F. Here are a few creative ideas for using your leftover turkey, dressing and vegetables that are sure to become new holiday traditions!

3-BEAN TURKEY CHILI

Adding the crushed tortilla chips helps to thicken the chili and adds a delicious corn flavor to the dish. It's a great way to use up those broken chips in the bottom of the bag!

2 teaspoons cooking oil
1 medium onion, chopped
1 cup chopped celery
3 cloves garlic, chopped
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 tablespoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper

1 can (28-ounces) diced tomatoes, undrained
1 jar (16-ounces) hot or mild chunky salsa
1/2 to 1 cup turkey gravy (optional)
2 cups cubed cooked turkey (1 (15-ounce) can white beans, drained and rinsed
1 (15-ounce) can black beans, drained and rinsed
1 (15-ounce) can pinto beans, drained and rinsed
1/2 cup finely crushed tortilla chips

1. Heat the oil in a heavy saucepan over medium heat. Add onions, celery, garlic, chili powder, cumin, salt and pepper. Cook until onions are clear. Add the remaining ingredients and stir until well-combined.*

2. Bring to a boil, cover and reduce heat to a simmer for 30 to 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serve with shredded Cheddar cheese, sour cream, chopped onions and/or jalapenos or the toppings of your choice. Serves 6.

*Slow-Cooker Option: You can place all of the ingredients into a slow cooker at this point and cook it on low for 4 to 5 hours, if desired.

TURKEY AMERICANA SALAD

Use your leftover turkey, vegetables (left-over Brussel sprouts, roasted vegetables, broccoli, cauliflower or asparagus also work well) and cranberry sauce in this salad, which is a tribute to traditional Thanksgiving flavors.

2 cups shredded leftover turkey meat
2 stalks celery, sliced
1/2 cup celery leaves, coarsely chopped, plus more whole leaves for garnish
1 crisp apple, such as Gala or Macintosh, cored and chopped
1/2 cup cooked whole kernel corn
1/2 cup cooked green beans
1/2 cup pecans, toasted, and coarsely chopped
1/2 cup cranberry sauce
1/2 cup non-fat yogurt

2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground black pepper
4 cups baby spinach

1. In a large bowl, gently toss the turkey, celery, celery leaves, apple, corn, green beans and pecans until combined. In a small bowl, whisk together the cranberry sauce, yogurt, mayonnaise, and salt and pepper until well-combined. Add the dressing to the turkey mixture and toss gently to evenly dress the ingredients.

2. To serve, spread the baby spinach evenly onto a serving platter, top with the dressed salad, garnish with celery leaves and serve immediately. Serves 4.

TURKEY DAY WRAP

4 (10-inch) flour tortillas
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
4 large slices cooked turkey
1 cup leftover dressing, warmed (optional)
4 slices cooked bacon
4 slices of tomato
1 cups shredded coleslaw or lettuce
1/2 cup chopped purple onion
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Wrap the tortillas in a paper towel. Sprinkle with water on both sides. Warm in microwave for 10 to 15 seconds. Spread each tortilla lightly with mayo. Divide the turkey and dressing, if desired, and put an equal amount on each tortilla. Add a slice of the bacon and tomato, and an equal amount of the coleslaw or lettuce, onions and shredded cheese to each tortilla. Wrap tightly and serve. Serves 4.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered 3 ft. 1 inch U. S. Gauge at the S. P. bridge yesterday. The U. S. Department of Agriculture in a bulletin issued Jan. 16 says of the rainfall in this locality of that date.

Rainfall is so far below normal in most sections of the state as to cause a great deal of anxiety among farmers, especially grain growers and livestock men. Pasture has not been in such a poor condition for many years as it is at the present time, which is seriously affecting cattle; more so the range stock than the dairy as in many localities feeding is unusual on the ranges. Nevertheless, wherever hay is obtainable at a cost that will warrant the expense, beef cattle are being fed. This is also true as applying to sheep. Lambing has been in progress for some time in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys, but the shortage of feed is causing some sheepmen to kill the lambs especially in cases where more than one lamb is born to the ewe. Many reporters state the local supplies of hay are ample providing generous rains come in the near future. In other districts, however, local demands have been heavy depleting supplies earlier than usual due to the small amount of natural grass produced that normally furnishes a large percentage of winter feed. This situation has caused alfalfa and grain hay to be imported into many localities, which has caused an advance in hay prices.

Grains in the northern half of the state have so far experienced a rather adverse season. Practically no growth has been made because of low temperatures and lack of moisture. Very little wheat has yet germinated in the San Joaquin valley. It is feared that unless a liberal precipitation comes soon and temperatures become more reasonable, the viability of some seed will be destroyed. This condition is already reported as existing in a few localities where seeding was done early and where moisture is not yet sufficient for germination.

The Sacramento river and various of its tributaries had an average depth during December that was lower than any known during that month in the records of the Sacramento weather office according to N. R. Taylor, Sacramento meteorologist.

The gauge for the Sacramento at Sacramento was 3.3 feet. The previous low average depth for the month was made in 1917 when five feet was recorded for the month.

At Colusa the Sacramento was the lowest on record with an average gauge for the month of 1 foot below zero. The Yuba at Marysville with a gauge of 2.6 feet the Feather at Nicolaus with a gauge of 5 feet below zero and the Feather at Oroville with a gauge of 1 foot all had lower average December depth than any on record.

The Sacramento at Red Bluff had an average gauge of 1.3 feet. This was exceeded once before in 1895 when an average of .7 feet was recorded for December.

The American river at Folsom was the lowest in December this year of any previously on record, with the exception of 1911, when 1.3 feet was recorded. The average gauge of this stream for December at Folsom was 2 feet.

A serious accident was barely avoided last Tuesday when Antone Marty and Antone Marty Jr. were bumped by a box car at the bridge crossing at Front and N streets. Fortunately both men escaped without injury but their automobile was somewhat badly damaged. It seems they were on their way from Sacramento to Yolo county for the Monument Ranch and in backing out of the freight shed at Front and N were caught by an approaching box car and switch engine. Good fortune was with them and except for the damage done to the automobile nobody was hurt.

Lear intends to go into the chicken raising business on an extensive scale and has already purchased incubators and brooders to raise a large flock of chickens during the coming spring.

The Chinese moved out after paying several months' rent in advance and surrendered the lease they had on the premises without prejudice. When the remodeling is complete Mrs. Davis expects to move back into the premises and sublet to families.

P. O. Cook had the misfortune last Wednesday evening to leave his automobile standing in gear while he went to open the doors to his garage. After opening the doors the car sailed in without direction and after administering a hard bump to the building, stopped without doing a great deal of damage.

THE QUESTION REMAINS, ARE THE CHILDREN OF YOLO COUNTY IMBECILES OR IS A JOB IN JEOPARDY?

Parents of Yolo County should feel somewhat worried if the report turned in by the county public health nurse is anywhere near the truth, approaches the truth, or is even mere guess work.

On January 3 the county health nurse turned in the report showing that nearly every child in the county is an imbecile in one particular or another.

This paper feels that either the county nurse is afraid of her job and wants to scare the people or that the children of the county are greatly neglected by their mothers.

The following was taken from the Mail of Woodland in which paper it was published on January 1:

Two thousand three hundred of the public school children of Yolo County were inspected and examined during the past quarter by Mrs. Rozzie M. Carrow, county public health nurse, and Miss Jefferson Brown, Red Cross nurse, and of this number, says yesterday's report to the board of supervisors and the Red Cross Chapter, 1,816 were found defective in some one particular or another. Teeth and throat defects made up the largest number by far. In making the inspection 44 schools in Yolo County were inspected. The quarterly report rendered by the two busy health nurses speaks for itself and is as follows:

Total number of nursing visits made 24; (a) babies under one year of age, 1; (b) pre-school children, 20; (c) adults, 3.

Visits to schools, 185; visits to the homes of school children, 319; miscellaneous visits, 314; total number of visits, 842.

Number of schools visited, 44; number of pupils in class room inspection, 537; number of individual pupils inspected, 2,303; number of pupils found defective, 1,816; number of pupils who have had all defects corrected, 487.

NEW FIRE FIGHTING APPARATUS RECEIVED HERE FOR EMERGENCIES

Last Monday, January 14, the fire trustees of Washington district received the latest and most up-to-date fire fighting apparatus with which the town has ever been blessed.

The price paid for the fire truck was $2,000, but since the old apparatus was taken as part payment and terms were advanced to the purchasers, the extra weight on the taxpayers of the district will not bear heavily on the people.

The engine is mounted on a Ford chassis and consists of a hose wagon and chemical engine combined. It was purchased from the American-La France Company of San Francisco at a total price of $2,000.

Besides the chemical and hose wagon there are acid receptacles and soda containers with which fire chemicals can be manufactured as the work of extinguishing the blaze goes on. There are also several Babcock hand extinguishers that may be used by the firemen where only a start has been made in a fire.

The fire trustees invite all taxpayers of the district to see and examine the new apparatus that is now installed in the town hall.

Besides the apparatus above mentioned the truck is equipped with a large siren and bell and a twenty-foot extension ladder as well as roof ladders that may be needed in extinguishing blazes.

The terms of payment extend over a period of three years which will make the payment easy on all taxpayers of the district.

COURTLAND, Jan. 17.—While delivering the last words of the initiatory ceremonies at the Masonic temple here at midnight C. E. Bauer, 60, member of the firm of Bower and Miller grocers, dropped dead of apoplexy. Bauer, a native of Sacramento, was a past master of Franklin Masonic Lodge and was active in the Native Sons of the Golden West and the Knights Templar. He was the originator of the movement for the beautiful new Masonic Temple here and was a resident here for eighteen years.

ASPARAGUS FIRES AT ISLETON LIGHTEN NIGHT SKIES

Isleton, Jan. 15.—Every night now in all directions from Isleton great fires may be seen burning.

The asparagus plants which are allowed to grow up, flower and seed after the last cutting in July, are being cut down this month and burned. After the disposal of the ferns the ground will be worked over and the asparagus beds filled up in preparation for the beginning of the cutting season, March 15.

A flash of lightning struck the earth near the foot of a tree in Madison County, Illinois, in 1807, setting it afire. The monks of La Trappe dug below the fire and found a vein of coal, first in the Northwest Territory.

LABORER IS KILLED ON HIGHWAY NEAR SWINGLE STATION BY AUTOMOBILE

Frightened by the sudden, shrill noise of an automobile horn, Jas. Crouth, 36 years of age, young laborer from Salt Lake City, Utah, walking with his companion, Arthur Jones, between Sacramento and Davis Wednesday evening, jumped directly in front of an automobile driven by Charles F. Silva, Jr., who was accompanied by his brother, Fred P. Silva, both of Sacramento. Crouth was killed instantly, his neck having been broken.

Jones leaped to the right and escaped being hit. Both men were traveling westerly and the machine was moving along in the same direction, at the rate of 30 mi.'s an hour. Jones stated today that he and Crouth were at the right edge of the highway but Crouth jumped toward the center of the pavement when the horn on the Silva car startled him.

Jones said that he and Crouth were on their way to Knights Landing to seek work.

Last night's accident was near Swingle's Station, several miles east of where C. E. Smith, also a pedestrian in search of work, was killed in a similar manner three months ago, but the pilot of the death car sped away before the identity was learned.

The Silva brothers stopped their machine and endeavored to render all assistance possible. The authorities were inclined to believe today that the accident was unavoidable.

J. A. SARAMENTO SERIOUSLY HURT BY TRACTOR

Yesterday forenoon J. A. Saramento was hurt seriously on his ranch in the West Sacramento district when a tractor he was operating passed over him seriously injuring his left leg.

From accounts at hand it seems that he wanted to back the tractor to connect it with a heavy plow and being alone he pulled the gear shift too hard so that the tractor knocked him down passed over his left leg and a part of his body.

He was taken to his home by George Borchers who was in the neighborhood and who heard his cries for help.

Sacramento physicians are now attending him and are in the hopes that he has not been internally injured.

Some men are classed as being "no earthly good." But they claim to be as good as anybody.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF THELMA Stephen Hamilton Runyon aka Stephen H. Runyon aka Steven Runyon CASE NUMBER PB13-200
To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Steven Hamilton Runyon aka Stephen H. Runyon aka Stephen Runyon:
A Petition for Probate has been filed by Melody Runyon in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.
The Petition for Probate requests that Melody Runyon be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

The petition requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.
A hearing on the petition will be held in this court as follows: Jan. 7, 2014, at 9:00 a.m. in Dept. 2, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 725 Court St., Woodland CA 95695.
If you object to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.
If you are a creditor or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.
Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.
You may examine the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk. Attorney for Petitioner: Eric L. Sayre

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE TS No. 13-0009194 Title Order No. 130157409 APN No. 014-690-085-000 YOU ARE IN DEFAULT UNDER A DEED OF TRUST, DATED 10/16/2003. UNLESS YOU TAKE ACTION TO PROTECT YOUR PROPERTY, IT MAY BE SOLD AT A PUBLIC SALE. IF YOU NEED AN EXPLANATION OF THE NATURE OF THE PROCEEDING AGAINST YOU, YOU SHOULD CONTACT A LAWYER. Notice is hereby given that RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A., as duly appointed trustee pursuant to the Deed of Trust executed by GREGORY S LUTZ AND DINAH Y HAMMOND, dated 10/16/2003 and recorded 10/22/2003, as Instrument No. 2003-0065325-00, in Book N/A, Page N/A, of Official Records in the office of the County Recorder of Yolo County, State of California, will sell on 12/09/2013 at 1:00PM, Ramada Inn & Suites, 1250 Hayard Drive, West Sacramento, CA, 95691, at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash or check as described below, payable in full at time of sale, all right, title, and interest conveyed to and now held by it under said Deed of Trust, in the property situated in said County and State and as more fully described in the above referenced Deed of Trust. The street address and other common designation, if any, of the real property described above is purported to be: 970 RIVER CREST DRIVE, WEST SACRAMENTO, CA, 95691. The undersigned Trustee disclaims any liability for any incorrectness of the street address and other common designation, if any, shown herein. The total amount of the unpaid balance with interest thereon of the obligation secured by the property to be sold plus reasonable estimated costs, expenses and advances at the time of the initial publication of the Notice of Sale is $779,230.55. It is possible that at the time of sale the opening bid may be less than the total indebtedness due. In addition to cash, the Trustee will accept cashier's checks drawn on a state or national bank, a check drawn by a state or federal credit union, or a check drawn by a state or federal savings and loan association, savings association, or savings bank specified in Section 5102 of the Financial Code and authorized to do business in this state. Said sale will be made, in an "AS IS" condition, but without covenant or warranty, express or implied, regarding title, possession or encumbrances, to satisfy the indebtedness secured by said Deed of Trust, advances thereunder, with interest as provided, and the unpaid principal of the Note secured by said Deed of Trust with interest thereon as provided in said Note, plus fees, charges and expenses of the Trustee and of the trusts created by said Deed of Trust. NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on a property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 1-800-281-8219 or visit this Internet Web site www.recontrust.com, using the file number assigned to this case 13-0009194. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. DATED: 10/23/2013 RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A. 1800 Tapo Canyon Rd., CA-914-01-94 SIMI VALLEY, CA 93063 Phone/Sale Information: (800) 281-8219 By: Trustee's Sale Officer RECONTRUST COMPANY, N.A. is a debt collector attempting to collect a debt.
